

Power Flower

Directions

Each “row” of petals represents a specific social identity. ● On the inner most petal, write your own identities (for education, as an example, if grade 12 was your last year of school, you could write “high school”). ● In the middle petal, write down the identities of the people who are in power at your job. ● Last, in the outer most petal, write down the identities of the people who hold power in the larger society.
