

Keeping it going after the election: an action checklist

Additional ideas:

Internal Organizing

- How will you recognize and appreciate political volunteers/leaders?
- How will you let everyone in our union (including those who weren't very involved) know about the impact of our union's political work? How will you celebrate?
.....
- How can leaders who emerged through political work continue to be involved with the work of our union? How can staff and others coordinate to make this possible?
.....
- How can longer term union activists (stewards, executive board members, etc.) connect with political volunteers who are newer to the scene?
.....
- How might you utilize opportunities for education (stewards' training, member meetings, etc.) to impress upon others the importance of 'keeping it going'?

Community Coalitions

Additional ideas:

- How will you recognize and appreciate the volunteers who aren't members of our union?
.....
- How will you debrief the coalition piece of the political campaign? Who will be included?
.....
- How can members of our union who, through the course of the political campaign, became interested in a particular community group and/or issue stay involved with their work? How might 'their' work become (more clearly) 'our' work?
.....
- How can members and other volunteers become more involved in our union's ongoing community coalitions? How can newly emerged activists contribute to making more coalition work possible?
